LOCAL ITEMS.

School books and stationery at the Post Office.

Mr. Lampert has sold his fine team to C. W. Wight, of Forest.

Best in use—New American and White Sewing Machines.

Supervisor Babbitt has built a small house near the depot on Railroad street.

Siding and flooring will be kept in stock at the planing mill and dressed finishing lumber.

What is that which flies high, flies low, has no feet, cannot walk, and yet wears shoes? Dust.

A full line of school district and township books at the Post Office.

Republican county convention at the court house in this city one week from today—May 25th.

These bright days are starting vegetation so rapidly that one might easily imagine he was a resident of the tropics.

Highway Contract blanks for sale at the Post Office.

David Shoppennegans killed a bear one day last week with his tomahawk. We might add the bear was first caught in a trap.

Every maiden can have a feller if she has money enough to buy a sewing machine of Masters with all the modern attachments.

The saw mill of Salling, Hanson & Co. is doing more and better business than ever before, and they are cutting a better quality of logs.

Dr. N. H. Traver has gone to Canada and the East, on a tour of combined business and pleasure. He will be absent about two weeks.

Chas. Harder is erecting two houses for rent or sale, northeast of the court house, and H. Brown is building him self a home on the same street.

Mr. Hubbard Head of South Branch, and Mr. John M. Smith of Grove, made the AVALANCHE a pleasant and friendly call one day last week.

There was a total eclipse of the sun yesterday, but it was visible only in Egypt and central Asia, therefore it was probably not noticed by our citizens.

Work on the new hotel has begun in earnest, and will be rapidly pushed to completion, as Mr. Hartwick has a way of making things move which he handles.

A woodman was loitering about the passenger house last Tuesday, a trifle dizzy, and fell from the steps onto the rail in such a manner as to dislocate his shoulder.

We have received from the State Board of Health two valuable documents on "Prevention and Restriction of Small-Pox," and "The Work of Health Officers."

The new planing mill is humming right along. A stock of dry lumber has been purchased at Bradford Lake to accommodate those who cannot wait for kiln drying.

Mr. L. B. Fletcher, who has lived in the southeastern part of Crawford county for over three years, visited Grayling for the first time last week Wednesday. He was called here as a witness.

Mr. John Love wishes to express through the columns of the AVALANCHE his sincere thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kind sympathy and attention to Mrs. Love during her illness.

On Friday we received a pleasant call from Mr. A. McMillan, of the Bay City Tribune staff, who was "swinging around the circle" of this Congressional district in search of news.

We should be pleased to see him again in our city.

The second edition of "Michigan and its Resources," compiled by the State Commissioner of Immigration, is now ready for distribution, and those interested can obtain it by sending their address to E. Moreley, Detroit, Mich.

We believe no city or village in Michigan can show so large a percentage of new buildings in process of erection in Grayling. We confidently expect that our population will be more than doubled this season.

Charles Wagner was admitted to citizenship.

Louis Berka was regularly admitted to the bar.

The People vs. Adelbert Price, Larceny.

Plead guilty, and sentence suspended to the first day of the next

NEWS IN BRIEF.

FOREIGN.

—Earl Spencer, the new Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, was received by the coronation of Dublin, and was loudly cheered on his way to the Castle.

—The report of the loss of thirty lives by the burning of the United States steamer Rodgers is contradicted. There was no loss of life.

—Michael Davitt was released from prison on the 6th inst.

—Emperor William, on hearing the news of the murder of Cavendish and Burke, was as much shocked as he was when the Czar was assassinated.

—During the month of April 462 agrarian outrages were committed in Ireland.

—Davitt telegraphs his friends in New York that he fears the Irish landlords want a sacrifice of vengeance, and that he is the one selected.

—A terrible explosion of fire-damp occurred in the Plum Grove, town of Buxton, Westphalia. It is believed nearly 100 people were killed.

—The Egyptian Ministry has repudiated the authority of the Khedive, and the Sultan assures the latter of protection from the powers. Turkey is preparing to send 30,000 troops to Egypt.

—Lord Frederick Cavendish was buried at Chatsworth, the seat of his father, the Duke of Devonshire. Members of the Cabinet, with Mrs. Gladstone, 900 members of the House of Commons and 5,000 of the Duke's tenants attended the obsequies.

—Troyden, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, arrived in Dublin on the 11th inst., and was cheered by the people. He was escorted to the castle by mounted police.

—In the English House of Commons, Harcourt introduced a bill for the repression of crime in Ireland. It provides for special tribunals of three Judges, to be appointed by the Lord Lieutenant, to try cases without juries. Judgments must be unanimous, but appeals can be made to the Supreme Court, which may lessen, but cannot increase, the severity of sentences. The bill gives power to search for secret apparatus of murder, to enter houses at any hour under warrant of the Lord Lieutenant, and to remove foreign delegates dangerous to peace. Membership in secret societies will constitute an offense, and newspapers containing inflammatory matter are to be suppressed. Compensation for murder and outrage will be levied on the districts where they occur, and the Lord Lieutenant can appoint additional police wherever necessary, at the cost of the residents.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

—Clearing-house statistics for the past week place Chicago third in the volume of business transacted.

—The Chicago Tribune prints an extensive review of the wheat and fruit prospects in Indiana, which foreshadow more than an average yield. There is a largely increased acreage of wheat seeded. An abundant yield of peaches, apples and other small fruits is promised.

—A large number of Western and Northwestern national banks are giving up their old charters and being rechartered under the present law by the Comptroller of the Currency.

—Groves are taking the places of striking coal miners in the anthracite region.

—The American Silk Growers' Association, of Philadelphia, have produced a piece of black silk from American cocoons which is said to be superior to anything of foreign manufacture. It is to be made into a dress for Mrs. Garfield.

PERSONAL.

—The will of Mary Frances Booth, of New York, gives personal effects to Mrs. Harriet C. McElroy, and her real estate to her husband, Edwin Booth.

—Senator Leggett has left Hot Springs greatly improved in health.

—J. T. Power has resigned the Chief Clerkship of the Treasury Department.

—Theodore H. Sweetzer, an eminent Massachusetts lawyer, died at Boston.

—William H. Abel, inventor of the knitting machine, was killed by a railroad collision between Boston and Montreal.

—Mrs. Scoville is about to apply for a divorce. Her husband regards her as being untrue.

—James Gordon Bennett died with President Arthur the other day, and on the following day took the President and members of the Cabinet on an excursion down the Potomac on his new yacht.

—While attending the steps of the Capitol, Alexander H. Stephens fell and sprained his left ankle.

—B. Allen has been appointed Government Storkeenier at the new International distillery in Des Moines, Iowa.

—S. S. Benson, a State Senator of Minnesota, from the Winona district, one of the best known men in the State, is dead.

—The death is announced of Hon. John F. Darby, the oldest member of the St. Louis bar, who had four times been elected Mayor.

—The handsome residence of Senator Bayard, on the outskirts of Wilmington, Del., was thoroughly ransacked by burglars, in the absence of the housekeeper. The main loss of which the Senator complained to the police was that of a pair of dueling pistols.

—The wife of Sergt. Mason made a strong appeal to President Arthur. The President said he had great sympathy for her, and that the petitions for the pardon of her husband would be laid before the Cabinet. Mrs. Mason was very much affected by the President's words.

GENERAL.

—At several points on the Pacific coast salutes were fired in honor of the signing of the Anti-Chinese bill by the President.

—The Supreme Court of the United States denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus in Sergeant Mason's case. The court decided the court-martial had full jurisdiction to try Mason for the offense charged; that its proceedings were all within its proper jurisdiction, and the sentence pronounced was not in excess of its power.

—George Scoville, of Chicago, asked the aid of the police of New York in finding his wife. The return of John D. Guitreau to the writ of habeas corpus denies that Scoville is in his custody, and that she is illegally restrained of her liberty. Mr. Scoville testifies that his wife told him he had "caused to care for her; also that J. W. Guitreau said he would resist all further attempts to prove insanity in the family.

—The Society of the Army of the Tennessee decided to hold its next reunion at Cleverland, Oct. 3 and 4, 1883. Bishop Follows was selected as orator. Gen. Sherman was re-elected President and Col. Dayton Secretary.

—At Columbus, Ohio, the conference of the M. E. church endorsed the Pund and Smith liquor laws.

—In the Methodist Conference at Nashville, Tenn., the Sunday-school Committee's report showed that the Sunday-schools since 1878 to 1881 increased to 7,292; teachers to 62,412; scholars to 162,321, making an aggregate increase of Sunday-school population in four years of 75,633. Sunday-school periodicals show an aggregate increase of 400,000, in the same time.

—The fifteenth annual reunion of the Society of the Army of the Tennessee was held at St. Louis, Gen. W. T. Sherman presiding.

POLITICAL.

—The Democrats of the Seventh district of Indiana have nominated for Congress Hon. William E. English, a son of the defeated candidate for Vice President.

—It is reported from Washington that Gen. Chalmers, lately ousted from his seat in Congress to make room for Lynch, will be backed by the administration as the leader of an independent movement in Mississippi.

—The Pennsylvania Republican Convention nominated Gen. James A. Beaver for Governor, W. T. Davis for Lieutenant Governor, Henry Davis for Judge of the Supreme Court, and Thomas Marshall for Congressman-at-large.

—The independent leaders announced that they will present another ticket-in-the-field.

—Ex-Secretary Kirkwood absolutely refuses to be a candidate for Congress from Iowa.

—The Indiana Republican State Convention will meet at Indianapolis Aug. 9.

FIRES AND CASUALTIES.

—The brewery of Valentine, West, near Allentown City, Pa., was destroyed by fire. An unknown German was buried to death.

—A terrible explosion of fire-damp occurred in the Plum Grove, town of Buxton, Westphalia. It is believed nearly 100 people were killed.

—The Egyptian Ministry has repudiated the authority of the Khedive, and the Sultan assures the latter of protection from the powers. Turkey is preparing to send 30,000 troops to Egypt.

—Lord Frederick Cavendish was buried at Chatsworth, the seat of his father, the Duke of Devonshire. Members of the Cabinet, with Mrs. Gladstone, 900 members of the House of Commons and 5,000 of the Duke's tenants attended the obsequies.

—Troyden, the new Chief Secretary for Ireland, arrived in Dublin on the 11th inst., and was cheered by the people. He was escorted to the castle by mounted police.

—A loss of $40,000 was suffered at Novato, Mo., by the burning of the Opera House block.

—Workmen caused two wrecks on the Texas Central road. A bridge near Waco, Texas, was swept away by fire. Late in the afternoon five persons were standing inside the scalded walls when a chimney and a mass of brick fell over toward them, inflicting fatal injuries. The party comprised three married ladies, a man and a boy.

—The Washington Street Baptist Church at Dover, N. H., was swept away by fire. Late in the afternoon five persons were standing inside the scalded walls when a chimney and a mass of brick fell over toward them, inflicting fatal injuries. The party comprised three married ladies, a man and a boy.
